

Yanks Will Invade Europe, West Point Cadets Told

WEST POINT, N. Y., May 29—(AP)—An invasion of the European continent was promised today by General George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, who told the West Point graduating class that American troops "are landing in England, and they will land in France."

Marshall said the Army would total nearly 4,500,000 men by the end of this year, instead of the previously announced estimate of 3,600,000. During the past four weeks alone, said the chief of staff, the Army has grown by 300,000 men.

"Your utmost endeavor, backed by high and unselfish purpose, will be required to bring this struggle to a triumphant conclusion," he told the graduating cadets.

"No compromise is possible, and the victory of the democracies can only be complete with the utter defeat of the war machines of Germany and Japan."

Gaining significance in view of the current discussions of high ranking American Army officers with British officials in London, Marshall's assertion that American forces "will land in France," was the first definite statement by any American official that a ground offensive against the continent was part of American-British strategy.

There has been much talk lately in London of forth-coming use of heavy American bombers flying with the RAF against Nazi-occupied Europe, and President Roosevelt said a month ago that "soon American Flying Fortresses will be fighting for the liberation of the darkened continent of Europe."

Mr. Roosevelt and other United Nations leaders have been non-committal, however, on specific plans for opening up a second front as desired by Russia.

Marshall recalled that prior to December 7, members of Congress, seeking his justification for expansion plans for the Army, wanted to know "where American soldiers might be called upon to fight and just what was the urgent necessity for the Army that we were endeavoring to organize and train."

"In reply I usually commented on the fact that we had previously fought in France, Italy and Germany; in Africa, and the Far East; in Siberia and Northern Russia," Marshall said. "No one could tell what the future might hold for us. But one thing was clear to me, we must be prepared to fight anywhere, and on short notice."

"The possibilities were not overdrawn, for today we find American soldiers throughout the Pacific, in Burma, China, and India. They have flown over Japan. They are landing in England, and will land in France. We are determined that before the sun

BRITISH SMASH AXIS ATTACK IN LIBYA

Meandering Along the Main Stem

By WASH FAYETTE

Take it from Floyd Tracey, the sign maker . . . if you want to paint the town red it is going to cost more.

Floyd bases his prediction on the fact that red paint, or at least the kind he uses, has advanced from $5 to $7 per gallon in recent months, and is none too plentiful at that price.

And blue paint . . . sign painter's blue . . . just can't be had, Floyd declares, due to the government placing a priority on it.

Because I am not superstitious I usually walk under Floyd's ladders when he is working along the sidewalk, but this time I did not try it . . . I was afraid he might spill some of that $7 red paint on me.

Ever since gasoline rationing was started in the eastern states, I've been wondering what the folks who happened to be traveling in the unrationed states would do to get home if they had to cross much of the "gasoline desert" . . . it took a couple of smart young fellows to figure out one solution . . . I just saw them going through town from west to east . . . they had a big steel drum fastened to the back of their coupe . . . it was resting on the rear bumper . . . I would guess off-hand that it would hold approximately 50 gallons . . . that would be enough to get them clear across Pennsylvania . . . their car had New York license plates on it.

I suppose some provision has been made for the easterners who happened to be driving their cars in the unrationed areas . . . but I've never seen anything about it in the news reports . . . at the rate of two gallons a week, it would take them a long time to get home unless they were given some special consideration . . . with prospects of rationing becoming nationwide, I think I'll stick close to home . . . didn't intend to go outside the county anyway . . . I'm even walking back and forth from home to office.

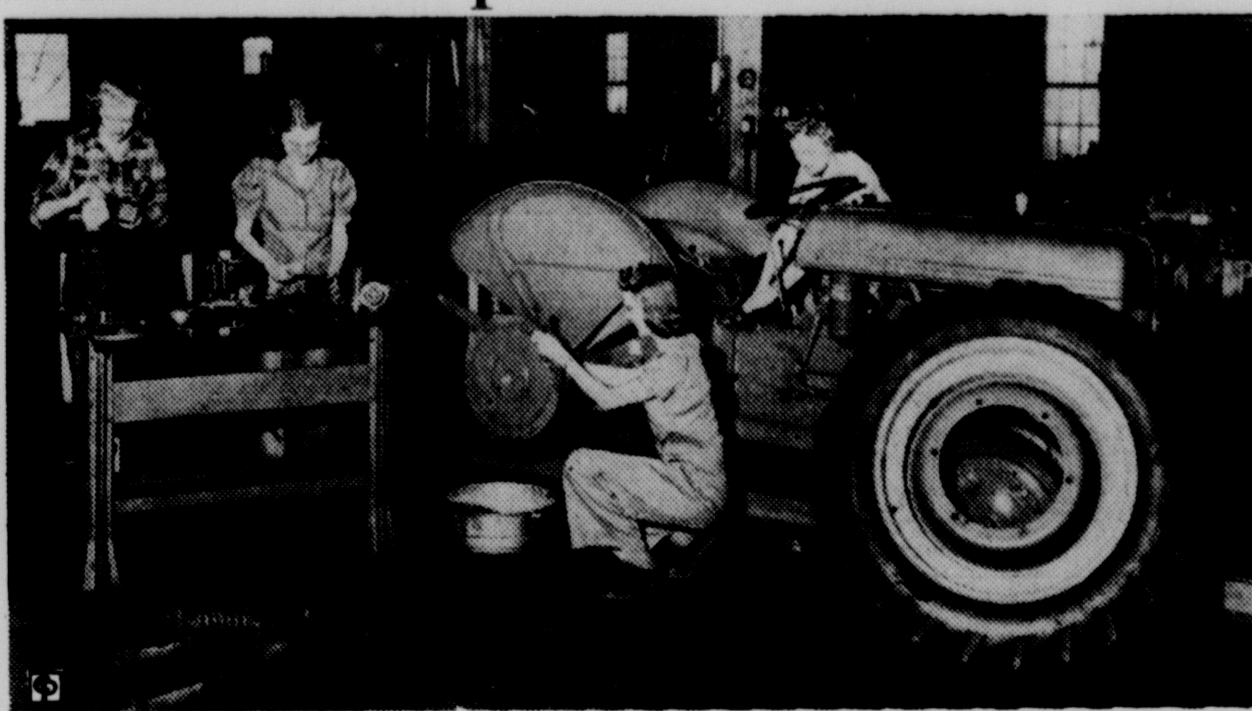

Almost every merchant in this city and county at some time has been the victim of a forged or otherwise "bad" check. In cases where an unknown person has asked to have a check cashed an embarrassing situation sometimes is created because the person asked to cash a check hesitates to offend the check signer and yet has no immediate means of knowing whether the check will be good.

Roy Baughn, the genial Fayette County auditor, related to me this week how he overcame this difficulty many times years ago when he was acting as clerk and cashier at some of the livestock and farm sales held at various places and also at the Snider Sales Barn when it was in operation. Baughn said he kept an ink pad at his desk and whenever a man unknown to him or a stranger without identification asked him to cash a check, or take a check for something purchased, he readily agreed if such person would permit his finger prints to be placed on the check. "You would be surprised," Baughn said, "how many persons would decide under these circumstances not to have their checks cashed. Those that readily agreed in nearly every case offered perfectly good checks. I think we saved ourselves many a headache and kept from taking some 'bad' paper by this method. People with questionable motives do not like to leave their finger prints for identification," he concluded.

Girls Taking over Now As Farmers Swap Plows for Guns

While many of the nation's youthful farmers are enlisting in Uncle Sam's armed forces, girls are donning overalls to take their jobs and keep the "food for victory" program in full swing. Evagene Vandiver, (photo at left) of Dalhart, Tex., takes the tractor seat formally

American-made Tanks and Planes Play Important Role in Africa War

Fighting in Russia Bitter But Inconclusive—Both Sides Claim Successes

British desert fighters, heavily supported by American-built Kittyhawks and Boston bombers, threw back a German panzer column today after it had knifed 50 miles inside the British defense system in North Africa.

Front-line dispatches said violent tank battles raged in a 50-mile-wide belt between Sidi Rezegh and Ain El Gazala.

A British communique acknowledged that Axis forces had driven within 15 miles of historic Tobruk as German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel flung massive tank forces into the struggle—as many as 250 in a single column—and hacked at Tobruk's immediate defenses at many points.

The British declared, however, that no fixed British land positions had been captured yet in the three-day-old battle.

Free French troops, fighting with the British, were credited with destroying 35 Italian tanks in a single engagement.

American-made tanks manned by the British were reported inflicting heavy losses on Axis armored forces attempting to knock out Tobruk as a prelude to a drive into Egypt.

An RAF communique indicated British warplanes already had won preliminary superiority in the air, declaring Axis air activity was on a reduced scale while RAF planes constantly roared over the battlefield.

A single formation of American-built Kittyhawks was credited with destroying more than 65 Axis supply trucks, while

FARMER'S JUNK PILE IS REQUISITIONED

Further Obstruction To Lead To Criminal Action

CLEVELAND, May 29—(AP)—After two months' difficulty with a farmer who sells old machinery parts near Shelby, the government has requisitioned his 300 tons of old metal for movement to steel mills, Ray F. Kenney, regional chief of the special projects section of WPB's Bureau of Industrial conservation, announced today.

Kenney related this account: WPB agents located the scrap pile in March and undertook to have it moved. The farmer, Allan J. Dick, of Little London, accepted a bid which permitted him to retain 25 tons of his old parts business, but haggled over nearly every piece as the dealer attempted to take it, making it commercially impossible to move.

Yesterday, Kenney and Joseph Hovancek, deputy U. S. marshal, appeared at the farm to serve papers on Dick and he left to see his lawyer in Shelby. They served the requisition notice there, and warned Dick any further difficulty would lead to criminal action.

GESTAPO STARTS MASS KILLINGS

Violence Grows in Countries Conquered by Nazis and Hitler in Bad at Home Too

LONDON, May 29—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's demands for vengeance for an attempt on the life of Reinhard Heydrich, Reich's protector for Bohemia and Moravia, were answered today by his Gestapo though perhaps only partly, with the execution of six persons in Prague.

A Czech government spokesman reported receiving advices that the Germans had arrested hundreds of officials, university professors and students for questioning, concentrating their attention on "intellectual types," including some puppet executives.

"The borders have been closed and the whole protectorate is one vast prison," the spokesman said. Announcement of the executions by the Berlin radio was accompanied by reports of new troubles facing Hitler at home and abroad.

Deportation Of Bridges Faces Delay

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—Attorney General Biddle invited a supreme court test of his deportation order against Harry R. Bridges today as the west coast CIO leader announced he had "just begun to fight."

Biddle, reversing the board of immigration appeals yesterday with an order to send Bridges back to his native Australia because of alleged Communist party connections, said he wanted the courts to "pass on the whole procedure as a test case."

In San Francisco, Bridges, who has denied any connection with the Communist party, said Biddle's order was based on "misstatements, prejudice and perjured testimony which have characterized the entire case."

He telegraphed Donald Nelson, war production chief, a pledge to "do all possible to offset any effect it might have on

Subs Avoid Convoys Because They Are Too Dangerous; Pick on Coast Shipping

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—Despite heavy losses inflicted on American coastal shipping by Nazi submarines, naval experts said today that the United States was slowly winning the main campaign in the Battle of the Atlantic.

They emphasized, however, that only steadily increasing production of both war and merchant ships could clinch the ultimate victory.

The greatest present need, it was said, is for more defense craft—subchasers, blimps and patrol bombers—manned by experienced personnel.

The cold statistical results of the Atlantic battle to date are: Three convoys of American troops and shiploads of equipment have arrived in the British Isles without the loss of a man.

The supply lines to Russia, Africa, Asia and Australia—springboards for offensive action—are open, primarily, naval authorities say, because warships have not been diverted to protecting coastal waters.

On the other side of the ledger, 221 merchant ships of American and other nationalities have been sunk on the American side of the Atlantic since mid-January. Also

SUB PACK ATTACKED BY YANKEE BOMBERS

Hundreds on West Indies Shore Watch Battle

ST. LUCIA, British West Indies, May 28—(Delayed)—(AP)—United States planes engaged a pack of Axis submarines a mile off Port Castries, late yesterday while the U. S. Destroyer Blakeley, damaged by a torpedo three days earlier, limped the 20 miles from the Vichy-French island of Martinique to St. Lucia. Hundreds ashore watched the attack.

Watchers said at least one submarine must have been sunk judging from the quantities of oil which floated to the surface after the 15-minute bombing and depth-charge attack by the U. S. planes. No official announcement was made.

Strange, But True!

Survivor of Torpedoed Ship Takes Life Easy While Lolling On Raft Alone at Sea for 29 Days

By JAMES T. CARTER

NEW YORK, May 29—(AP)—They thought there was something a wee bit fishy about Harley Archie Olson's story when he was rescued—bronzed, sleek and healthy—after 29 days alone at sea on a raft.

So, when the rescue vessel arrived at Key West with the 23-year-old radio operator, the FBI detained him while checking his tale.

But they found his story—one of the most amazing to come out of the battle of the Atlantic—was true and Harley, on the way home to Portland, Ore., told about it today:

"I didn't lose any weight, I was never afraid of sharks, I

Joe Louis Can't Pay $117,000 Tax Bill—So Deferment Granted

NEW YORK, May 29—(AP)—Pvt. Joe Louis, he of the fabulous ring earnings and the generous heart, needs $117,000.

Even as you and I, the heavy-weight boxing champion has an income tax payment due June 15. Joe's is $117,000 and he asked today for a deferment of the payment.

He got it. "Joe ain't got that kind of money," explained Mike Jacobs the promoter who has handled most of Joe's fights. "Joe wants to fight in June so he can get hold of some money."

Louis twice recently defended his title, donating his share of purses totaling $83,246 to army and navy relief.

CURB ON POWER FACES OPA BOSS

But Need of Rubber for Tires Stands Out as Threat to Unlimited Car Use

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—A rising tide of Congressional opposition to nationwide gasoline rationing brought suggestions from influential House members today that Congress might well consider curtailing some of Price Administrator Leon Henderson's power.

Speaker Sam Rayburn and Chairman Lea (D-Calif.) of the House Interstate Committee investigating the gasoline and petroleum situation went on record as seeing no reason to extend the Eastern rationing program to the entire nation.

At the same time, Chairman Steagall (D-Ala.) of the House Banking Committee that wrote the price control law under which Henderson received much of his authority, commented that perhaps Congress had "made a mistake."

"No such power as that man has should be given to one man," Steagall told reporters.

Although members of the Senate small business committee held out new hope for motorists by unanimously endorsing a proposal to allocate 3,000 tons of crude rubber for the fabrication of 30,000,000 retreads made

'Work or Fight' Is Order To Speed Up War Effort

WASHINGTON, May 29—(AP)—The government has adopted a work-or-fight policy under which men with draft deferment as skilled workers will be called into the army if they refuse war jobs.

Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt announced the policy last night and said it would apply to workers who "refuse to accept suitable employment in a war industry without reasonable cause."

The ruling backed up Wednesday's order "freezing" essential workers in war plant jobs to prevent pilfering of labor by rival employers. McNutt said only a few critical occupations in a small number of war plant areas would be affected immediately.

Local committees of labor and management representatives will be set up to hear appeals of workers or employers whose requests for changes are denied by the federal employment service, the sole hiring agency for skilled war workers under the order.

WAR BOND SALE IN COUNTY IS NOW INCREASING

Belated Purchases Expected
To Reach May Quota,
Chairman Says

Fayette County is coming through with its support of Uncle Sam's war effort by buying War Bonds and Stamps with a belated rush, Judge Harry M. Rankin, chairman of the committee, revealed Friday morning following a check-up on the campaign's progress.

Judge Rankin said that there has been a "very considerable increase" in the purchase of War Bonds and Stamps "since the middle of the month," and expressed belief that the county's quota of $38,500 for May would be reached by private subscriptions.

The campaign chairman made no attempt to conceal his elation over the upswing in purchases. Only a few days ago he had said he was "ashamed" of the showing the county had made in the past, but even as he was thus speaking, he expressed both hope and confidence that the situation would change "once we get going." He was at a loss, then, to explain the apathetic attitude of the people and said frankly he did not know what to do to arouse community pride and a patriotic spirit. Since then, the purchases have been increasing.

The chairman warned, however, that there could be no let-down as he said that he understood that the county's June quota would be bigger than that for May. The state quota, he said he had learned, was raised nearly $13,000,000 for June and suggested that "in all probability" Fayette County's quota would go up proportionately.

Judge Rankin spoke to the city teachers at their meeting in the high school Thursday afternoon, explaining the purpose of the War Bonds and Stamps and the operation of the sales campaign which he heads in this county.

At the end of the meeting, he said, 13 teachers signed pledges to purchase stamps or bonds regularly. Most of the others at the meeting, he explained, already had pledged themselves to buy bonds or stamps.

MRS. NINA SHINKLE DIES AT REST HOME

Funeral To Be Saturday at South Solon

Simple services will be held at the South Solon Cemetery at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Nina Shinkle, 72, who died at the Carr Rest Home in Washington C. H. Thursday afternoon following a two-year illness, friends in her home village of South Solon said Friday.

Mrs. Shinkle, who had lived her lifetime in and near South Solon, had been in the rest home about a month.

Friends may call at the Sprague Funeral Home in South Charleston until time for the services.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mary Jaraus of Dayton; two sons, Harlan of Peoria, Ill., and Herbert of Dayton; a sister, Miss Cypressie Bellar of Columbus and six grandchildren. Her husband died September 5, 1941.

GOOD HOPE PLANS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Program To Be Given at Cemetery in Morning

An elaborate program has been arranged for the observance of Memorial Day at Good Hope. If the weather does not interfere, it will be given at 10 A. M. Saturday at the cemetery. In case of rain, it will be presented in Wayne Hall in the village.

The tribute to the honored dead of the community is to be opened with group singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," led by Mrs. D. R. Murray.

Rev. C. S. Bowen is to deliver the invocation.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address is to be recited by E. N. Sollars and that will be followed by a reading, "The Kid Has Gone to the Colors," by Miss Ruth Yerran. Following group singing of "America," Miss Mary Frances Palmer will read "Watch, America." A quartet composed of Mrs. Harold McCoy, Mrs. D. R. Murray, C. R. Lyle and C. W. Jones will add several appropriate numbers to the musical features of the program.

The Memorial Day address will be delivered by Rev. Bowen, after which Ivan Anderson is to play a cornet solo and then sound taps to conclude the program.

The people of the community have been asked to bring flowers to Wayne Hall between 9 and 9:30 A. M. Memorial Day. There they are to be arranged and later taken to the cemetery and placed on the graves of the soldier dead as has been the custom for years.

the production program and labor unity."

COLUMBUS, May 29—(P)—The Communist party's political status in Ohio may be determined soon by Secretary of State John Sweeney.

There were indications today that Sweeney would rule shortly on the party's application for a place on Ohio's election ballot.

Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle's ruling in Washington in the Harry Bridges deportation case created conjecture here that Sweeney might use it as a basis for his decision in the ballot case.

In filing for a ballot place, the party asserted in affidavits that it did not advocate overthrow of the United States government.

The legislature in 1941 enacted a statute barring from the ballot any political party or group which advocated overthrow of the government by force or violence or which spread sedition.

Biddle held the Communist party "believes in, advises, advocates or teaches the overthrow by force or violence of the government of the United States."

ing reports in semi-diplomatic channels, declared the Fuehrer had imprisoned his former army commander, General Walther von Brauchitsch, and his former food chief, Walther Dore, along with 13 high Nazi party officials in a sudden purge.

Simultaneously, advices from Stockholm asserted that Norwegian patriots on the island of Setra, opposite Bergen, had shot and killed the Nazi Gestapo chief ruling all western Norway. These advices, which did not identify the secret police chief by name, said the Germans had arrested the entire male population of the village where the attack occurred, evacuated all families and set fire to their homes in retaliation.

THE WASHINGTON NEWS PUBLISHING CO. TAKES OVER THE FAYETTE TIMES AND WILL CONTINUE WEEKLY PUBLICATION

The Fayette Times, in its issue of Friday, May 29, carried the following announcement:

"Effective next week The Fayette Times will be published by The Washington News Publishing Co., publishers of The Record-Herald.

"After next week the plant of The Fayette Times, 131 South Main Street, will be closed and all machinery and equipment will be disposed of.

"This action was decided upon this week by members of the board of directors of The Fayette Times and is brought about by rapidly increasing operating costs and reduction in revenues brought about by the war emergency.

"Under existing conditions it has become apparent to the publishers of The Times that in a city the size of Washington C. H. or a county like Fayette, two live newspapers cannot be supported in a manner which will justify the expense of more than one publication.

"It has been the history of most cities and counties this size that newspapers either have combined or one publication has absorbed the others in order to effect economies which will permit continued publication of the type of paper the public has been taught to expect.

"All subscriptions unpaid, or not paid in advance are being taken from the mailing lists to completely cooperate with Federal government requirements under the new 'in default' regulations. Subscriptions which are renewed promptly, or new paid subscriptions, will be placed on the list at once and carried through to fulfillment.

"C. C. Hartley, publisher of The Times stated today, 'I regret that it has become necessary to cease our operations in Washington C. H. However, conditions beyond our control have presented themselves with our participation in the war, and coupled with the fact that we have lost valuable employees to the war effort who cannot be replaced, we believe it advisable to close this shop. It has been a pleasure to work with Fayette County people and to all our many friends we extend a hearty Thank You.'

on the loss side is three destroyers, torpedoed or damaged by mines.

The intensity with which the Nazis are waging undersea warfare in American waters is attributed by authorities here to their decreasing success in attacking convoys out on the North Atlantic.

The U-boats have had to fall back on the indirect method of attacking where defenses appeared weakest. For several weeks beginning in January most of their raids were made along the Middle Atlantic Coast.

Then, presumably as counter-measures became more effective, they moved south, finally concentrating in the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean. It may be expected that when they believe the time is right they will strike again at the Middle Atlantic. Meantime they may venture to the very mouth of the Panama Canal, as they have already struck at the mouth of the Mississippi and the St. Lawrence.

The Navy has made no report on the effectiveness of its counter-measures since April 1 when it was announced that 24 Axis submarines, including about half a dozen Japanese craft, had been sunk or presumed sunk. Since then there have been numerous reports, officially unconfirmed, of successful anti-submarine actions. These would indicate that in round numbers possibly 30 or more U-boats have been put out of action.

No Smoke From New Coal Stove

By EDWIN B. GREENWALD
COLUMBUS, May 29—(P)—A new type of stove that burns coal but emits no smoke whatsoever was unveiled by science today.

It looks like an overgrown garbage can and was created by the Battelle Memorial Institute for the bituminous coal industry which admitted frankly it wanted to meet competition from cleaner methods of heating than the old parlor baseburner.

All they will say about the workings of the new stove is that it employs a new principle of burning; just what that is will remain a deep secret until patents are completed the institute said.

Any type of coal may be used. It is fed into the top of the circular burner. Peering in, you see the usual amount of smoke roll off the coal, but that smoke never leaves the stove. The only residue that slips up the flue is noncombustible gases. The stove has the same old ash bed beneath, but the amount of ash is considerably less than from an old type heater.

The stove was one of several projects developed by Battelle for the coal industry. Howard R. Limbacher, an engineer who directed design of the stove, said it was about ready to be turned over to manufacturers.

GORDON GRIM NOW IN INDIA FIGHTING JAPS

Missed Becoming a 'Tiger'
When Japs Struck
Pearl Harbor

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grim, 630 Sycamore Street, are in receipt of a letter from their son, Gordon Grim, who is now located with the American Air Corps in far-off India, doing his part in fighting the Jap invaders.

Earlier reports stated that Gordon was one of the famous "Flying Tigers" that battered the Japs at every opportunity in Burma. It seems that Gordon was somewhere out on the great Pacific enroute to Burma, when the Japs struck at Pearl Harbor and the Philippines, and was diverted to Australia and then some other point before finally landing in India, where he and other members of the fighting American Air Force are waging war on the Japs.

Gordon enlisted in August, 1939, with the U. S. Air Corps, and spent sometime in California, and a half dozen other states, in training. His recent letter contained little real information except that he was well and that the Japs don't like what the Yank airmen have to offer. In addition to their son in India, Mr. and Mrs. Grim have another son at Panama, and one employed at Patterson Field.

Attends Banquet

Miss Clara Louise Vannorsdall was the guest of Private First Class Jerry Holesovsky at the Air Force and Banquet given at Baer Field, Ft. Wayne, Ind., Monday evening. Miss Vannorsdall made the trip from Dayton by plane. Private Holesovsky was a senior at Oberlin College at the time he was drafted and has been playing in the Air Corps Band at Baer Field, which broadcasts each Monday evening over the Ft. Wayne station. He has visited here at the home of Miss Vannorsdall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Vannorsdall, several times.

COPS WITHOUT AUTHORITY TO COMMANDEER CARS

COLUMBUS, May 29.—(AP)—A policeman has no authority to commandeer an automobile to chase criminals, although he may order a citizen to help him capture a suspect, the Ohio Supreme Court holds.

The ruling was made yesterday in the suit of Nathan Blackman against the City of Cincinnati. Blackman's car was damaged after being commandeered by a policeman to chase a suspected criminal. The tribunal commented, however, that "on moral grounds the City of Cincinnati could well experience the urge to reimburse appellants for their loss."

Friday night the Boiling Five will also be with us. I'm sure you will enjoy their gospel songs

Can the Deafened Hear Again?

Medical authorities say yes—in many cases. Make this simple, no risk hearing test. If you are temporarily deafened, bothered by ringing, buzzing, head noises—due to hardened or coagulated wax (cerumen), try the Quirine Home Method test, that so many say has enabled them to hear well again. Used since 1895. Over a million packages sold. Safe ingredients as listed in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia. You must be satisfied after making this test or your money is refunded. Costs only a few cents daily. If afflicted, ask your druggist about Quirine. For sale by Down Town Drug Store.

PEONIES

Regal, yet most friendly, with wonderful colors, and delightful fragrance the peonies are in bloom. 300 modern varieties, with 100,000 blooms bursting with welcome are waiting to greet you in the fields of The Wing Nurseries at Mechanicsburg.

Over 500 people came to see the Iris last Sunday. Are you coming this week end to enjoy the Peonies? Blooms as well as roots are for sale at moderate prices.

We are on Routes 4 and 29—30 miles west of Columbus.

HOW MOTORISTS CAN HELP
If you have been asking for a suggestion as to what you can do toward winning the war, listen to this.

Right at home, without hardship or sacrifice, you can help to save lives of tens of thousands of Americans, to knock months or years off the time it will require to whip Hitler, perhaps even to save us from defeat.

You can resolve, and plan, and organize—and make good—to save rubber by sharing your car with others when you drive to work, go shopping, take the children to school, or use the automobile for any essential purpose.

If we continue operating our cars as we have, 20 millions out of the 33 millions will be laid up by late summer of 1943, for the duration of the war.

That would be a national tragedy. It would slow down to a snail's pace the present tempo of our production. It would prolong the war by reducing the weight of material we can throw against Hitler and the Japs. It might mean the death of tens of thousands and the maiming of hundreds of thousands of soldiers, sailors and marines who need not be sacrificed.

Our whole productive economy is based upon use of the automobile. Without it, we can not get our workers to and from their jobs.

We can not possibly meet the production demands of all out war without automobiles for workers' transportation.

In a year or 15 months, if we ignore present warnings and continue to waste rubber, vital factories must slow down because many workmen won't be able to get to their jobs.

By sharing rides the available tire supply can be made to last between three and four years. By that time we hope to have ended the war. If we haven't, there will be at least a possibility of relief through the production of synthetic rubber for pressing needs.

We can triple the lifetime of our national tire supply by sharing rides systematically, intelligently and universally. Probably we won't. No such system ever works perfectly. But, to beat Hitler, it would seem worth the attempt.

All over the country isolated agencies are promoting the idea. The National Association of Manufacturers is cooperating with the Office of Defense Transportation. The Michigan State Highway Department is experimenting in Pontiac. The Associated Industries of Maine, the Massachusetts Planning Board, the Connecticut Manufacturers Association are surveying the possibilities. The California

Washington at a Glance

Old-fashioned professional fighters, on land, and, even more emphatically at sea, are beginning to admit reluctantly that World War No. 2 is about as different from No. 1 was different from our American War of Independence, about 150 years ahead of it. It's a transformation wrought in a couple of decades in comparison with the preceding 15.

They don't like to admit it because it makes them seem like back numbers.

Aviation is what's poisoned their original system.

It was a mere adjunct in 1914-18. They thought it was going to be the same thing again. Instead, it threatens to supplant them.

The groundlings still have hopes, as to the future. When it comes to occupying an enemy country, they reckon that surface troops will have to do the business. They are getting ready for an actual invasion of the European continental terrain. Flyers can come down via parachute, but not in sufficient numbers and at a rapid enough rate to escape being chewed up about as fast as they hit terra firma. Grounding invaders simply can roll in, in irresistible waves. That presumably is what our A.E.F. is in Ireland for—to swish, plus the English, across the Channel and swamp Germany, in co-operation with the Russians, from the other direction. Sir Stafford Cripps told parliament about it, as Winston Churchill's spokesman, a days ago.

Flyers Pave the Way
But the aviators are expected, to prepare things for this surface movement, in advance.

During World War No. 1, of which I saw quite a bit, as a news correspondent, the airman was an observer mainly. He might spill a few bombs, German airships were something of nuisance over London, but no serious worry. The damage they did was negligible.

That was what orthodox warriors anticipated this time. Instead—My!—they raise hades.

It's reciprocated, too.

But what German air bombers have done over England and what British flyers have done to German centers like Rostock and Mannheim isn't a circumstance to Japan's vulnerability as a target for our own airmen. Brig. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle and 79 other American flyers proved this a few weeks ago without losing a single plane.

You need to have lived in Japan, as I have, to appreciate that kind of a raid's effects in the Mikado realm.

On a second thought, I slightly qualify that reference to the Mikado.

Some unquestionably American loyal locally-born Japs, whom I know, assure me that Emperor Hirohito didn't want to get into this war and that a lot of his countrymen didn't, but that they were yanked into it forcibly by Nippon's war lords, the crazy Samurai. Their dope is that we ought to propagandize decent Japan and we'll win 'em over to our side in due course.

Flashes of Life

ST. LOUIS.—(AP)—George Daish built a wren house in his backyard and to make it more attractive put up a tiny "for rent" sign.

But no wren, nor any other bird, seemed interested.

Finally Daish put up a new sign, "rent reduced." The next day two wrens took over the house.

CINCINNATI.—(AP)—Mrs. Jennie Haynes, about 65, lived alone in a cheap mid-town apartment . . . frequently expressed fear of "losing my money." Neighbors smiled.

Mrs. Haynes died in a hospital today. Attaches found $3,343.94 . . . more than $3,000 of it wrapped in wax paper and tied to her waist with string . . . the remainder in her shoes and stockings.

There was a bankbook, too . . . showing a balance of $1,700.

nia Shipbuilding Company in Los Angeles, the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company in Birmingham are in the midst of experiments. The U. S. Rubber Company recently carried a full-page advertisement in many newspapers urging individuals to co-operate.

Here is a chance for individuals and organizations, labor unions and service clubs, civic associations, Legion posts and women's clubs to organize share-the-ride groups, to save rubber, to shorten the war, to save good American lives.

Meaning of Changes in Appearance of Tongue

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
LIKE THE LIPS, as we said last week, the tongue is a part of the body which we can see every day and I gather a great many people look at it every day as a sort of barometer of general health.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

I gather this, for one thing, from the emphasis that the movies put on the maneuver: invariably the actor who is playing the part of a frequenter of night clubs is shown arising in the morning, going to the mirror and sticking out his tongue and looking at it more or less ruefully.

The old family doctor used to use the tongue in this way. I culled from an old medical book the suggestion that a "beefy" tongue occurs in chronic inflammation of the bowel or liver; that a "furred" tongue means nervous prostration if the fur is brown; if the tongue is dry with fissures, the condition is grave; light fur means an irritation of the stomach; yellow fur means liver derangement. If the tongue is red along the center it means intestinal irritation; if glassy, it is very unfavorable; if it is bright red it indicates gastric inflammation and if it is red and cracked it means kidney trouble. Since these are about all the kinds of tongues there are, if you follow this system and depend on your tongue, you are pretty certain to be suffering from something.

Fortunately all this tongue lore has been given up as misinformation, but to a certain extent the tongue is the mirror of the system. The general conditions in which the tongue shows characteristic changes are the anemias, deficiency diseases and a few general fevers, such as scarlet fever.

"Raw, red tongue, raw red gut" is a colloquialism which indicates that in many of the anemias the digestive tract is disturbed throughout its whole course. Nearly any kind of anemia shows itself in the first part of its course in a sore, red tongue, often with little painful blisters on it. As the disease progresses if no treatment is administered, the tongue becomes small and atrophied so that the little papillae are smoothed out. The vitamin deficiency diseases often show up in the tongue first.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
J. M. D.—"Is there any difference between a goiter and an enlarged thyroid gland? Why does a non-functioning thyroid cause one to be stout? What keeps the gland from functioning?"
Answer: The general name for an enlargement of the thyroid is goiter, but there are many different kinds. A non-functioning thyroid causes a person to be stout because the function of the thyroid gland is to keep nutrition running continuously at a definite level. This means that it causes foods to be burned. When it does not function the food accumulates in the tissues in the form of fat. A non-functioning thyroid gland stops functioning because the cells of the thyroid atrophy. What causes this to happen is a mystery.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX

A CORNER drug store might not seem like a very good place for a rendezvous, especially such an important one as this, but at least the small booth where Steena waited for Tommy was secluded and private. She imagined she would need privacy and seclusion, for she was afraid she might not have an easy time in getting Tommy to agree to the proposition she was going to present to him. So far Tommy had left everything to her, but she would have to have his co-operation in this.

He would have to give it to her, she resolved, even if she had to hit him over the head to make him co-operate. She knew that Tommy was beginning to be sick of their bargain. She knew, too, that he was not the sort to stand, for long, this being used for a foil—as Marg would have phrased it. He had already broken over in sending Tibby those violets, but Steena would see to it that he did not break over again.

Young Doctor Dare was on time. He arrived on the dot of 8 o'clock. He arrived looking eager and yet rather grim. The eagerness was due to what Steena had said over the phone, that she had something to tell him about Tibby, something he wanted to hear. The grimness came from his determination to put an end to this silly campaign that he somehow—he could not believe of his own free will entirely—had got involved in. It was silly business, this sneaking around to meet Steena in a corner drug store when what he wanted to do was to go straight to Tibby and have everything out and over with.

He should have realized by now that Steena's determination matched—and rather out-did—his. It was stamped on her lovely face now, in the brightness of her green eyes, the set of her beautiful, crimson mouth.

"I might as well come right to the point," she said, after they each had ordered a soft drink as a reasonable excuse for occupying the booth. "The reason I asked you to come out and meet me here. I want to announce our engagement, Tommy. I want it to be in the papers tomorrow—in black and white."

That would be tangible proof, indeed, for Wayne Court-right, and a soothing salve for Steena's wounded pride.

Had she actually hit Tommy over his nice blond head, he could not have looked more stunned. His mouth fell open, he stared at her as if he thought she had suddenly gone crazy, all the eagerness left his blue eyes.

"Our engagement!" he finally blurted out. "But we aren't engaged. In the papers! Good heavens—that would never do!"

"Of course we aren't engaged." Men were so dumb, Steena decided. They were supposed to have the brains. "But we can pretend we are, can't we, in order to end this campaign once and for all?"

"End it!" That was what he wanted to do all right, but he could not see that this would help. It would only make him more involved than ever, make things more difficult to explain to Tibby.

"Certainly it will end it," Steena said, her green eyes narrowing. She had been afraid Tommy might prove difficult. She should have gone ahead and given the announcement to the papers herself, but she had been afraid to go quite that far without telling him. "That's the plan I spoke of," she told Tommy. "It's the only way to bring Wayne and Tibby to their senses. If they both think we are going to marry someone else—each other—they will do something about it."

She wished she were as certain of that as she sounded. What if Wayne did not do a thing? What if he did not care if she married someone else?

No doubt Tommy was thinking the same thing. He said, "It sounds like a goofy idea to me, like carrying things a bit too far." What if he had to go ahead and marry Steena? Good Lord! This was worse than getting involved. It looked to him almost like a trap.

Steena said, "You promised to leave everything up to me. I think you'll have to admit I've managed very well so far. You admitted Tibby acted differently toward you the last time. That proves I know what I'm doing, if you'd only leave everything up to me."

"You said you had something to tell me about Tibby," Tommy reminded. He took a huge gulp of his drink; he felt he needed it, for he had a sneaking feeling that he was trapped already. You couldn't argue with a woman. You couldn't put down your foot and refuse to go on with your part of a bad bargain, not when the woman would not let you get out of it, but kept dragging you farther and farther on in. He wished he never had been such a sap as to agree to let Steena run this campaign. Her way was not a man's way of doing things.

"I HAVE something to tell you," Steena took a long slow sip of her cool drink. "I hinted to Tibby, just to see if this plan that you term goofy might be feasible, that we might possibly become engaged. It was her reaction that made me see it was the very best thing we could possibly do." That was true, in a way. Of course, the gift, with its accompanying note from Wayne, had been a deciding factor, too.

"What was her reaction?" Tommy wanted to know. He did not like the idea of Steena's even hinting to Tibby, but that was what he meant by the way a woman handled things.

"I could see that it upset her," Steena said. "Considerably. I could see, Tommy, that she cares for you, even though she may not realize it yet herself."

That was the big news that was supposed to be what he wanted to hear, but it did not seem to cheer Tommy up very much. "A lot of good that does me," he said. He wanted something much more tangible, something much more effective and conclusive than Steena's suppositions. It seemed to him she was too upset, where he was concerned, as it was.

"It will," Steena prophesied. "You have to be patient. You have to wait for the final results. Also you must remember that I am in this too, not just you and Tibby. You promised to help me out with Wayne. He has GOT to think that I am going to marry someone else."

This was the main issue, the only arrow left. If it failed in its mark, then the whole campaign was a flop. Steena would have to give up, but she would not give up without this last "blitz."

"I still don't like the idea," Tommy protested. He liked it less and less the more he thought about it. Tibby would never understand, he felt sure, his getting engaged, even for her special benefit, to another girl, and so soon after he had proposed to her.

"You don't have to like it," Steena sounded cross. "All you have to do is see if it won't work. The reason I asked you to meet me here is that I want to phone the papers before 9 o'clock, so the announcement will be in the morning editions. It's nearly nine now—two minutes of, so I think I'd better do it right away." She pushed back her emptied glass to get up.

Tommy pushed his aside, too. It collided with something, fell over, rolled onto the floor and broke. He felt as if the broken glass represented himself. "Okay," he said, all grimness now, the eagerness having been wiped out. "But this IS the last stand. If it doesn't bring results, you'll have to release me from my part of the bargain, Steena." From the engagement, too, he should have added. What if she wouldn't let him get out of that? What if he had to marry the girl? Then he WOULD be sunk.

He should have had that plainly understood before it was too late, but Steena already had left the booth. She was in the telephone booth now, calling up the papers so that the morning editions would carry a notice of the engagement of Steena Winters to Dr. Thomas Dare—in black and white.

Nevada's Copper Towns Revived by War

By F. H. BUCK, Jr.
(By Central Press Association)
ELY, Nev.—War-time demand for copper has brought a new bonanza to the heart of the heart of the great American desert, where Nevada and Utah meet.

Here in the high sage brush country are located some of the largest copper mines in the world. And they are working at full capacity, after more than a decade of intermittent suspension of operations due to fluctuations in the world price of copper.

During the '30's the mining town of Ely had to rely almost entirely upon a sparse tourist trade for subsistence. Now and then the mines would open, but rarely for long. Suddenly, with the outbreak of the war in 1939, this all changed. Copper became important again. Foreign supplies were cut off, as nations started to pouring the metal into armaments.

"Big Hole"
There came an influx of new faces in 1940 and 1941. More this year, too. They came to work the mines at Kimberly and McGill and the great "glory hole" at Ruth.

At Ruth is one of the world's largest open pit mining operations. It is some five miles in diameter and its terraced sides descend over 4,000 feet below the desert level. A railway winds around the terraces to the floor of the pit to pick up cars of ore mined by steamshovels. Almost adjoining this operation are the Kimberly tunnels of the Consolidated Copper company, with their shaft buildings some five miles away. It is reported that one of their tunnels has been pushed to within 50 feet of the side of the great pit.

The men mining the copper have come in from the coast and the southwest to change Ely from a withering ghost town into as gay a hardrock camp as has been seen in Nevada since the heyday of the Comstock Lode and Virginia City, where a town of a few hundred mushroomed into a boom city of 30,000 in the 1860's. Around Ely today people live in trailers and every habitable shack that still stands upright. And they are turning out twice the amount of copper that was produced in the area in 1934 and 1935.

These mining men work hard, and they play hard. That seems to be a part of the tradition of Nevada, for in Ely the neon lights shine all night long, as muckers and bosses, engineers and ranchers, refinery men and "cousin jacks" mingle in the camaraderie of the open spaces. The gambling casinos and bars run full tilt till dawn sends the last stragglers home.

"Pardners"
Yet there is a certain seriousness among these men, for they know they are doing their part in the national effort in getting the copper out of the ground, making it available for the military. The newcomers rapidly absorb the spirit of the region, feeling that they too have become western "pardners" in a national effort.

But a tenderfoot from more civilized parts gets a certain ribbing. One popular gag, revived from the era of Tonahop, Goldfield, Beatty and Bullfrog, concerns the proverbial trade rat, a mysterious denizen of the juniper forests, who visits camp at night to rob a prospector of some delicacy in his pack. Only the trade rat, unlike the coyote or the bear, leaves a token payment for his loot. If he removes a sack of prunes, he leaves a colorful bit of broken glass in remuneration. This buildup serves to explain to all what surely must happen to a greenhorn's cache of beer when he discovers four lumps of sugar left in its stead.

Of such is the stuff that spells "V."

GREYHOUND IS MAKING CHANGE IN SCHEDULES

Tire Shortage Forces a Reduction in Mileage And Speed Rate

Tire conservation is already affecting the bus lines, including the nationally known Greyhound Lines, and while no radical change has been made in the service through Washington C. H., it is noticeable that patronage it steadily increasing.

Notice has been given to the public to travel as much as possible on days other than over week ends, so soldiers may be better accommodated on Saturdays and Sundays.

A 25 percent reduction in scheduled mileage, a top speed of 40 miles per hour, the complete elimination of all charter service, and stringent restrictions on the using of second sections or "doubles" becomes effective June 3rd on the operations of Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines, according to L. H. Ristow, General Traffic Manager.

The recent announcement from the Office of Defense Transportation to the effect that bus service between New York and Washington would be coordinated and some schedules eliminated is only a forerunner to the new set-up being instituted June 3rd by Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines in the interest of conserving equipment and the saving of tires, Ristow added.

Every division of equipment of the operation, which extends from New York and Washington in the East to Chicago and St. Louis in the mid-West will feel the effects of the reduction in services with as many as two to three round trips being taken off between some major points.

"Every seat on a regularly scheduled run must be filled and there must be at least a sizeable load left over before our company will run a 'double' or second section. It is not that we are not striving to the best of our ability to serve the public—it is that we are providing essential service where needed most with the equipment we now have," Ristow stated.

"Effective June 3rd all of our schedules start operating on a 40 mile per hour basis and that means our time tables are set so that no driver need exceed that speed. All Express and Limited schedules have been eliminated and every bus that we operate will make stops at all authorized stations," he concluded.

Ristow is of the opinion that coordination of service between all competing bus companies will soon be worked out in all sections of the nation.

PLUMBING FIXTURE BAN NOW ORDERED BY WPB

WASHINGTON, May 29—(P)—The War Production board today prohibited production after June 20 of various plumbing fixtures commonly used in homes and commercial establishments.

The list includes bath room and laundry sinks, foot baths, drinking fountains, water closet bowls, frost closets and tanks for water closets or urinals.

Officials estimated the restrictions would save about 46,000 tons of iron and 7,200 tons of steel annually.

CONTINUE ADVERTISING IS EXECUTIVE'S ADVICE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 29—(P)—Advertising must keep going right on, war or not," says Alexander Thomson, Jr., executive of a Hamilton, Ohio, paper and fibre company.

He told the Southern Graphic Arts Association yesterday that "too many businessmen, in an emergency such as this, fail utterly to protect or even allow for depreciation of consumer goodwill and public acceptance, which may be worth many times the value of their business."

NATIONAL SALES TAX MEETS OPPOSITION

Low-income Families Would Be Hit Too Hard, Claim

By DONALD A. YOUNG

WASHINGTON, May 29—(P)—Treasury experts laid down a hammering barrage against sales tax sentiment today as the House Ways and Means committee sought to make up $2,000,000 deficit it already has piled up against the administration's revised $8,900,000,000 tax goal.

Despite the prospective shortage, department statisticians remained adamant against any form of a sales tax, primarily on the theory that it would bring disproportionate hardships to the low-income families.

Youth Hops into Plane at War Plant and It Takes Him to England

CLEVELAND, May 29—(P)—

There's nothing like a quick-trans-Atlantic plane ride, professor, to add zest to one's college training.

Take the case of John Sleasman, 23, a junior in Fenn College, where students may alternate between classroom study and experience on the job.

He has been getting his experience work at an Ohio war plant. "The boss" told him one morning to go home and get a day's supply of clothing and hustle back.

"When I came back I hopped into a waiting plane loaded with shipments," he said. "I didn't know where we were going until after the plane took off."

It turned out to be England. Sleasman said he slept in an electrically heated flying suit, lying across packing boxes. His food, and that of the plane crew, came from thermos apparatus.

"I don't know where we landed in England," he related. "I helped set up the equipment in the shipment and in eight hours was on another plane, returning home. I slept strapped to the floor."

Classroom lectures are apt to seem a bit dull, professor, after that.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION ADVOCATED BY BAPTISTS

CLEVELAND, May 29—(P)—Action seeking national prohibition for the war's duration probably will be taken by the Northern Baptist Convention in session here, leaders predicted today.

A move to stop the manufacture and sale of all alcoholic beverages was urged yesterday by a Schenectady, N. Y., church, and received prompt acclaim by many of the 3,000 convention delegates.

Mrs. Lyle Fuller Feted by Lovely Shower Party

Mrs. Laura Roush, Miss Helen Slavens, Miss Juanita Purcell, Miss Grace Humphreys and Miss Achsah Mayo were five charming hostesses when they combined hospitalities to entertain in compliment to Mrs. Lyle Fuller (Joan Dawson) a recent bride.

The lovely affair was held at the Devins Party Home, Wednesday night, and assembled intimate friends of the popular young bride.

A yellow and white color scheme was used in the decoration and was both artistic and unusual in its combination. For the dessert course, twelve places were laid at the dining table, with three small tables, arranged in the adjoining room, seating the remaining guests. Marking each cover as place cards and favors were nosegays of yellow rose buds and white syringa, tied with yellow satin ribbon. The hour around the tables was a happy one, with the pleasures gracefully extended by the gracious hostesses.

Hearts were played throughout the evening in the lovely and spacious rooms, to which numerous bouquets of flowers had been added. High score trophies were presented to Mrs. Clarence Craig and Miss Golda Cummings. A lovely gift was presented to the attractive honor guest, who wore a most becoming ensemble of gold light weight wool, with navy accessories.

At the close of the game, the guests were again invited to the dining room where a miscellaneous shower was arranged on the table. Centering the table was a dainty little bride, gowned in white, with an arm bouquet of fragrant yellow roses. Standing on a mirror outlined with yellow and white flowers, she was an artist's model of a "dream of a bride." Around her, the prettily wrapped gifts were heaped, which Mrs. Fuller opened and voiced her sweet appreciation.

Invited guests were Mrs. Stella Dawson, Mrs. Bonnie Skyles, Miss Goldie Cummings, Mrs. Edythe Craig, Mrs. Jean Olinger, Miss Sarah Lyon, Miss Adelaide Wigginton, Mrs. Elizabeth McVey, Miss Ruth Malone, Mrs. Pauline Spragg, Miss Dorothy Jones, Mrs. Lena Young, Mrs. Myrtle Timmons, Mrs. Fannie Smith, Mrs. Margaret Halliday of Hillsboro, Mrs. Daisy Graves, Mrs. Juanita Gingrich, of Dayton, and Mrs. Bessie Skinner of Clarksburg.

Wesley Society

Mrs. Glenn Rodgers opened her attractive home, radiant with bouquets of peonies and other spring flowers, to the members of the Wesley Mite Society for their May meeting.

Mrs. W. E. Fox, the president, presided over the business, with two verses of "America" opening the meeting. Mrs. Ella Wills had the devotionals and Mrs. Ralph Hayes was program leader, presenting Mrs. Ola Boyer, who gave a humorous reading "Honey Boy." Mrs. Will Hay sang a lovely number.

One new member, Mrs. Richard Hayes, was welcomed as a new member.

The meeting was closed by the song, "Break Thou the Bread of Life" and the society benediction.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in Red Cross sewing, after which the hostess and her assistants served refreshments.

Besides Mrs. Rodgers, the hostesses were Mrs. Logan Buzick, Mrs. Henry Smith, Mrs. Mina Fleming, Mrs. Sherman Murry, Mrs. Lucy Robinson, Mrs. Sam DeWees, Mrs. Mattie Tillet and Mrs. Howard Bingham.

Mrs. Simons Gracious Hostess

Mrs. Hoy O. Simons charmingly entertained with a pretty small party at her home Thursday.

A one o'clock luncheon was served at the dining table, lovely in its appointments. Flags of radiant colors formed the centerpiece. The covers were marked with pretty patriotic placecard tallies.

Mrs. Simons, who is always an adept hostess, extended delightful pleasures to her guests, who enjoyed progressive bridge throughout the afternoon. High score holders were Mrs. L. C. Coffman and Mrs. Robert Edge.

Besides the prize winners, other guests included in the delightful affair were Mrs. H. G. Coffman, Miss Edith Gardner, Mrs. Troy Junk, Mrs. Earl Barnett, Mrs. Walter Jones and Miss Marie Melvin.

Odako Girls

Eleven members of the newly-formed Odako Campfire Group met at the home of their leader, Mrs. Wilma Barger, on Thursday afternoon for their regular meeting. After the business was cared for, the girls took a hike to the two-mile bridge on the Chillicothe road, where they had a picnic and toasted marshmallows.

Kensington Club Enjoys Meeting With Mrs. Stemler

Mrs. A. S. Stemler, always a perfect hostess entertained the ladies of the Thursday Kensington Club to one of the loveliest parties of the club calendar.

The attractive home was an ideal setting for the pretty affair, and the fragrance and beauty of the numerous bouquets of peonies and roses in graceful arrangements, were a delightful pleasure.

The dining table seated twelve guests for the delicious one o'clock luncheon, and three small tables arranged in the living room held covers for the remaining twelve. Peonies and roses filled watergardens for the centerpiece and drew much admiration.

During the afternoon, sewing for the Red Cross and informal visiting were happy pleasures. Mrs. Loren Hynes and daughter, Helen Louise, assisted the gracious hostess in the congenial hospitalities.

Three Hostesses Entertain Club To Dinner Party

Combining hospitalities, Mrs. Andrew Loudner, Miss Ann Story, and Miss Rosemary Burgett entertained their dinner-bridge club with a delightful party Thursday evening. The dinner was served at the Gage Sandwich Shop, where the guests were seated at one long table and two small. Roses in exquisite shades, formed lovely centerpieces for each table, and the places were marked with colorful flowers for the hair.

It was a gay party, the pleasures of the dinner promoting itself into the evening's game for which Miss Story took the guests to her lovely home on the Columbus Road.

The charms of the spacious rooms, profusely decorated in gorgeous bouquets of spring flowers, were an added pleasure. Miss Lorane Kruse was presented high score award.

Ashbaugh-Stritenberger Nuptials

Miss Wanda Stritenberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stritenberger, became the bride of Mr. Ralph Ashbaugh, of Bloomington, in a single ring ceremony performed by the Rev. John Glenn, at the Presbyterian Manse on Tuesday, May 26. They were attended by their mothers, Mrs. Arlie Ashbaugh and Mrs. Orville Stritenberger.

The bride was attired in a powder blue crepe dress with white accessories. Her flowers was a corsage of violets.

Mrs. Ashbaugh attended Frankfort High School.

Miss Peggy Miller was a pretty young hostess Thursday afternoon, when she invited the members of the Tawanka Group of Campfire girls to the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ellis, for their meeting and a party in observance of her eleventh birthday.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Betty Rose Harsha. The leader, Mrs. John Forsythe, passed out application blanks to the girls who plan to attend Camp Wyandotte.

Following the lengthy meeting, Peggy opened her large array of gifts, for which she made happy and sweet responses.

Peggy and her mother, Mrs. Ervin Miller, served a large variety of party refreshments to the girls at the close of the afternoon, which were most delicious and particularly appealing to the young appetites.

Marguerite Class Entertains Mothers with Elegant Spring Party in Presbyterian Church

Accomplished Young Pianist Is Outstanding Feature Of Evening; Basement of Church Beautifully Decorated

Outrivaling the many elaborate previous parties given by its members, the Mothers and Daughters Banquet of the First Presbyterian Church held Thursday night was one of the most outstanding affairs of the May curriculum of social events.

This was the ninth occasion of this joyous affair at which time the members of the class pay tribute to their mothers.

The basement of the church was a bower of spring beauty. A profusion of fragrant flowers adorned every possible place, in gorgeous bouquets of roses, irises, daisies and syringa.

The tables were gracefully arranged with two long ones on the sides, and one long table in the center for the speakers and the class officers.

Artistic and most beautifully decorated was the speakers' table. A low water garden on an oval mirror was filled to the utmost with exquisite American Beauty roses, some in full bloom and some in bud. Tiny white candles in the form of ducks, were placed around the outside of the mirror. Flanking this centerpiece were smaller crystal bowls abundantly filled with the same roses. Down the center of the table trailed tall candles in the shape of roses in crystal holders, adding a very pretty and lovely note. The two other long tables were almost identically decorated.

Marking each guest cover were small crystal swans filled with pink fluid, floating on diamond-shaped mirrors, the favors from the class. At each members' place were gifts tied in pretty pink and white wrappings and were ration book folders.

The three-course dinner served by the Charlotte Tuttle Sisters

Class, consisted of exceptionally delicious viands and was thoroughly enjoyed.

The well-planned program was most delightful and entertaining from the beginning to end, with everyone entering into the gayety of the evening.

Mrs. Mary Kathryn Smith made a most adept toastmistress and in an original poem cleverly paid tribute to the "Mothers" and then to the class teacher, Mrs. Marguerite Powell.

Appreciative response was made by Mrs. Powell, who has untiringly led this class through the years since it was formed.

Mrs. Myrtle Farquhar, the assistant teacher, made a pleasant and brief talk to the girls.

Mrs. Smith introduced the class president, Mrs. Anne Reinke, who expressed her sincere appreciation of the cooperation of the class members.

Each member introduced their guest, followed by a "Daughter's Welcome" by Mrs. Esther Jones, and response by her mother.

These were two very sweet and appropriate messages of mother love.

Several merry songs, led by Mrs. Ellen Pensyl accompanied by Mrs. Donna Musser, were included in the program.

An unexpected and most delightful feature of the evening was the presentation of Miss Nevelyn Theobald, twelve-year-old piano artist, who played the three difficult numbers, "Seguidilla" by Albeniz; "Rondo Capriccioso" by Mendelssohn, and "Polonaise" in a most artistic manner.

A pupil of Professor Zerkle, of Springfield, the young pianist held her audience with her remarkable talent and finger work.

Closing the evening was the fashion show, "Then and Now in Fashions" with Mrs. Powell introducing the models and giving description in verse.

The parade of styles was gaily enjoyed, with some of the numbers causing much mirth and hilarity.

The models and their styles were:
Little Girls—Sandra Campbell, Sandra Janes.
Bathing Girls—Carolyn Browning, Martha Bireley.
Tennis Girls—Mary Rettig, Joy Seblom.
Sleepy Girls—Clara Davis, Dorothy Giebelhouse.
College Girls—Ruth Hire, Joy Seblom.
House Dresses—Martha Bireley, Carolyn Browning.
Sports Girls—Janice Sagar, Annalee Gregg.
Afternoon Dresses—Velma Cunningham, Anne Reinke.
Traveling Dresses—Mary Sauer, Mildred Rogers.
Formal Dresses—Anne Reinke, Virginia Perrill.
Brides—Dorothy Dellinger, Dorothy Pensyl.
Grandmother—Clara Davis, Dorothy Giebelhouse.

Softball Season To Open Here June 8

-Spying- On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 29—Outside of professional rassing, the best toughening-up exercise that has come to our attention lately is "suicide basketball." Instead of playing according to no-contact rules, the player who grabs the ball on the jump lugs it down the floor like a halfback and the opposition can use any means it wants to stop him. Penn State has 13 entries in the I.C.A. 4-A meet this week end and if you are thinking of bad luck, the Nittany Lions won the indoor title with 13 entries.

Today's Guest Star

Carl Bell, Northwest Arkansas Times Fayetteville, Ark.: "The University of Arkansas razorbacks may not win the Southwest Conference next fall, but at least their forte will be genuine—captain and quarterback Chic Forte of Lake Village." P. S. Harvard also will be well fortified with Don Forte in the driver's seat.

One-Minute Sports Page

Alf Bristol, one of Australia's leading steeplechase jockeys, now is in the Merchant Marine and likely will get a couple of mounts at Belmont while his ship is in port. Tammy Mauriello has turned down an offer to fight Jimmy Bivins on Cleveland's "Buy a Bomber" card because of a cut over his right eye. Carl (handy-man) Holland, N. D. Dame frosh halfback, won 16 letters at Farmingdale, N. Y. High School—football 4, basketball 3, track 3, baseball, boxing and golf, 2 each; drummer Joe Petritz wonders if anyone tops that record. At least Carl won't freeze to death with all those sweaters. Yale swimming students now practice the breast stroke with a ten-pound lead pipe on their necks. Coach Bob Kipphut says it's a good substitute for a gun—not only in swimming, Bob.

Miami Tracksters Favorites of Meet

BEREA, May 28—(P)—Ohio State's Western Conference champions get a fine chance to tune up in the Ohio A. A. U. track meet here Saturday for an attack on seemingly impenetrable Southern California in the National Collegiate. Unbeaten Miami, with the most powerful squad in its history, seems likely to offer Dr. Frank Castleman's team the only real contest for the team championship but the 168 entrants promise stiff opposition for many of the individual crowns.

Les Fleming Has Hopes For His Kid Brother

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(P)—Les Fleming, the Cleveland Indian swatter, has hopes that his 10-year-old kid brother will follow in his footsteps.

Harold Fleming, another brother of the Cleveland player and an Air Corps student here, said: "Our kid brother, Darnell, plays ball with Les every day at Beaumont, Tex., during the off season. Les wants him to be a baseball player, too."

Harold predicted that Bromher would lead the American League in hitting this season.

POST ON TOLEDO BLADE TAKEN BY KENNETH TOOILL

TOLEDO, May 29—(P)—Kenneth D. Tooill will become managing editor of the Toledo Blade Monday, succeeding Charlie Russell Corbin, who resigned to join the office of censorship staff in Washington. Tooill was managing editor of the Ohio State Journal, Columbus, for 10 years.

THREE LEAGUES WITH 17 TEAMS ARE LINED UP

Games Are To Be Played During Twilight—Light Only When Necessary

Softball, the great summer sport in Fayette County, was discussed frontwards and backwards Thursday night when ten men, interested in promoting softball in this county, met in the former Penney temporary store room on West Court Street.

It was finally decided to have an Industrial League, Church League and Girls League. Seventeen teams will complete the circuit and they will play two games a night, four nights a week. The first game, starting at 7 P. M. will be either in the Girls League or the Church League. The second game, starting at 8:30 P. M. will be between two Industrial League teams. It was decided that everyone must be out of the park by 10:30 P. M. and that lights would be used in the last few innings only if they are needed.

The general admission price for the first four evenings of the week will be 5c for everyone and on Friday nights, when a special game will be arranged with an out of town team, if rationing, etc., permits, the admission price will be 10c. There will be no season tickets this year.

Suggestions were given by those present in making the leagues better and all were put together under the supervision of the YM-YW recreation board, with Willard Wilson the chairman.

Tommy Doyle is the recreation director and was in charge of the meeting Thursday night. Some of the suggestions given were that the same umpire would umpire each evening to avoid difficulties; a person changing teams would be ineligible the following week and only players playing during the week will be admitted to Wilson Field. An eligibility list will be handed to the man at the gate each week and only the ones on the list will be admitted, it was said. It was also decided that each team would furnish one ball for each game, and it must be a new one or "relatively new" one.

The playing will be started Monday evening, June 8.

The complete schedule will be drawn up some time next week. The teams in the Girls League will be Rife's, Gradale Sorority, Children's Home and Wile's Wildcats. Those in the Church League include Church of Christ, Presbyterian, Methodist, and St. Colmans. Another church is also expected to join this loop later. In the Industrial League there will be four grange teams and four industrial outfits. The Selden, Fayette and Forest Shade Granges already have joined and the Madison Mills Grange is expected to come in soon. One industrial team, the Cudahy Packing Co. has entered and three more are to be chosen from among Kaufman's, Legion, Wilson's, Light's and the Record-Herald.

Dayton Wins Two Under New Pilot

DAYTON, May 29—(P)—Dayton, playing for the first time this season under the field generalship of Club President Ducky Holmes, pulled out of the mid-Atlantic League cellar last night by winning a doubleheader from Springfield. The Ducks took the opener 4 to 1 and the nightcap 12 to 9. Catcher Chervinko managed the team previously.

Golfers Plan Campaign For Army - Navy Relief As Tourneys Fade out

By GAYLE TALBOT

ATLANTIC CITY, May 29—(P)—Figuring that tournament golf will be ended for the duration within six weeks, the professionals are getting ready to pitch in and carry on an organized country-wide campaign to raise funds for the army and navy relief societies and the Red Cross.

Between rounds of their annual P. G. A. championship at the Seaview Club here, they got together last night and agreed to shoot the works. President Ed Dudley announced that the association would contribute the services of its tournament manager, Fred Corcoran, to line up benefit matches and the players agreed to devote a good part of their time to the program.

Of the eight stars competing in quarter-final matches today, six agreed to place themselves at Corcoran's disposal. The other two, Corporal Jim Turnesa and Sammy Snead, already have signed with Uncle Sam's armed forces.

On the strength of their play so far, it looks like the tournament finalists on Sunday probably will be Sammy Snead and Ben Hogan. Byron Nelson, the pre-tournament favorite, appears to be threatened with one of his rare slumps.

Ray Robinson Beats Servo But Crowd Boos Decision

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, May 29—(P)—Ray Robinson still sports the longest winning streak in recent fistic history today, but only because a referee saw one low punch where most ringsiders saw two—and boomed.

There was no doubt about the booing by the 13,673 customers who sat in Madison Square Garden last night, both when the low punches were struck in the second round, and again after the fight, when Robinson was announced the winner of a ten-round decision over baby-faced Marty Servo from Uncle Sam's Coast Guard.

The close verdict gave Robinson a winning streak of 121 straight fights—89 as an amateur and 32 as a pro.

It also established him as the outstanding welterweight in the ring today.

However, without the referee's penalty in the second round, Ray would have had a lot tougher time winning from the Schnectady slugger who carried the fight to him all the way. In the second heat Robinson struck low, first and the jeers went up. Before the end of the session, Marty also knocked one into the rough. Servo was penalized.

Athletics Vital To War; Is Claim; So, Tires Wanted

SPRINGFIELD, May 29—(P)—Ohio Conference officials believe intercollegiate athletics have a vital role in the war effort and plan to ask for tires for vehicles transporting teams next fall.

John B. Van Why, Wittenberg College athletic director, representing the conference, said he plans to ask Washington officials for priority rating on new and recapped tires.

He cited the stress placed by the army and navy on physical education and said he believed other organized groups would ask for tires soon.

Bridge Player's Idea Might Do in Baseball If Right for Bridge

PHILADELPHIA—(P)—The Phils can get out of the National League cellar, says one of the Hans Lobert's grandstand coaches, by playing ball like bridge—"leading with their aces."

Since the 60-year-old Lobert became manager of the downtrodden Phils this season he has been bombarded with letters, postcards and nightly telephone calls.

"They've been calling up at all hours of the night," said Hans. "One of them came up with a new wrinkle."

"He asked me if I ever played bridge and went on to say that in bridge you lead with your aces. That is, lead off with my best hitter, Danny Litwhiler, and so on down the line."

"I thanked him for the idea. But, say, in bridge you don't always lead your aces, do you?"

RED SOX WORST TEAM ON ROAD IN BIG LEAGUES

Yankees and Dodgers Come Up with Wins To Tighten Grip on Leads

By JUDSON BAILEY

The Boston Red Sox come close to being the worst road team in the major leagues and this malady which has kept them from resembling pennant contenders in the past, now has placed even their first division berth in jeopardy.

The Red Soxers are a first class outfit at Boston. It's only when they venture away from home that they stumble.

The Cronin Clouters were stopped 5-1 by the Washington Senators at the capital last night and now have lost 12 of their last 17 encounters, all but three away from home.

This slump, which contrasts with Boston's feat in winning 14 of its first 21 games while playing mostly at home, has dropped the club within a game of the fifth-place St. Louis Browns.

Yanks Win Again

Joe Gordon of the New York Yankees extended his current hitting streak to 13 games yesterday, and the champs won a 3-2 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics. Gordon rapped a single with the bases loaded and the score tied in the ninth.

Virgil (Fire) Trucks, strikeout king of international league last year, pitched his first complete game for the Detroit Tigers and held the Cleveland Indians to four hits for a 6-2 victory.

The St. Louis Cardinals rallied for four runs in the eighth inning to beat the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and gain their sixth victory in seven games. A double by Rick Ferrell knocked in the deciding runs.

Dodgers Beat Braves

The Brooklyn Dodgers set down the Boston Braves again 6-4, with Kirby Higbe pitching seven hit ball and choking off a Boston rally that netted three runs in the ninth, two on a homer by Max West.

The St. Louis Cardinals took advantage of this to strengthen their hold on second place in the national league with a 3-2 eleven inning triumph over the faltering Pittsburgh Pirates who now have lost 11 of their last 13 games.

Big Bill Lee, making a fine comeback this season, achieved his seventh victory by holding the Cincinnati Reds to six hits as the Chicago Cubs forged to a 2-1 triumph in 12 innings. Lee himself knocked in the winning run with a long fly.

Reds Revert To Type and Cubs Win, 2-1

CHICAGO, May 29—(P)—The Cincinnati Reds wind up a three-game series with the Chicago Cubs today, with either Paul Derringer or Johnny Vander Meer pitching and hoping for some hits from the Reds. Claude Passeau is the Cub pitcher.

After Wednesdays slugging, the Reds reverted to type yesterday and provided Ray Starr with just one run in 2 innings. That one, a homer by Hank Sauer, was inadequate, since the Cubs got two. Pitcher Bill Lee's long fly sent in the winning run.

Starr allowed ten hits while the Reds collected six.

BRITISH SMASH ATTACK BY NAZIS IN LIBYA WITH AMERICAN-MADE TANKS

American Boston Douglas bombers showered explosives among a concentration of 700 trucks. British headquarters indicated that the outcome of the new desert battle still was in doubt.

For the first time, Premier Mussolini's high command announced the launching of an Axis spring offensive in Libya and asserted that since Wednesday morning the conflict had been developing "in favor of Axis troops."

British headquarters reported British defenders of Tobruk, key citadel on the shores of the Mediterranean, smashed at least two Axis forays and were now engaging massed enemy forces in the vicinity of Knightsbridge, a desert track center, 12 miles south of Acroma.

Acroma lies 10 miles due west of Tobruk. Overhead, British and Axis planes clashed in furious dog-fights and swept over opposing lines in bombing and machine gunning attacks.

A British war bulletin said two Axis columns had united around Knightsbridge, barely 15 miles below Tobruk, after racing around the British left flank at Bir Hacheim, the tiny "Well of Wisdom" oasis 50 miles southwest of Tobruk.

The British said one of the Axis columns thrust directly north in an attempt to reach El Adem, 15 miles south of Tobruk, but was hurled back.

London military quarters said Rommel's onslaught apparently signaled the start of Adolf Hitler's long-heralded grand offensive of 1942, and declared they expected the African drive to be followed by a German offensive in southern Russia, striking toward the oil-rich Caucasus from positions now held along the Sea of Azov.

Conjecture also centered on a possible Nazi air-borne attack on Syria and Iraq. On the Soviet front, the bitter Kharkov battle continued inconclusively amid unconfirmed reports, broadcast by the Vichy radio, that Russian artillery was shelling the German-held "Pittsburgh" of the Ukraine.

On the southern flank, 80 miles away, Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Red armies reported incessant German tank and infantry attacks crushed in fierce all-night fighting and indicated no major setback despite Hitler's claims of an "outstanding victory" for the Axis.

A Soviet communique pictured Russian fliers as inflicting havoc on the invaders, reporting destruction of 28 German planes and wrecked 32 Nazi tanks, 235 trucks, 35 munitions carts and six railway trains in Wednesday fighting.

German military circles declared flatly that the battle of Kharkov had ended and that fighting continued only in an area south of the city against the remnants of Soviet forces.

Hitler's field headquarters said merely that German troops were mopping up, with the "number of prisoners and amount of booty mounting steadily."

The Red armies had attacked on the central (Moscow) front and had been repulsed in fierce fighting, with some of the Russians encircled.

The London Daily Mail quoted the Berlin radio today as saying "our Fuehrer has taken personal direction of strategic operations on the Kharkov front. We look to his genius as a strategist to bring about full victory."

principally from reclaimed castings, Rubber Coordinator Arthur B. Newhall said he remained convinced that nation-wide gasoline rationing was the only feasible method of conserving tires.

"I don't see any other way to do it," the rubber chief told reporters.

Senator Ellender (D-La.) told reporters the retreat plan, which he intends to introduce Monday, was designed to keep 20,000,000 cars rolling which otherwise would be forced off the roads when their present tires wear out.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, May 29.—(P)—Registering losses of as much as 1 1/2 cents, wheat prices today sank to new lows since last November in a weak pre-holiday market. Other grains sagged with wheat.

Favorable crop reports, the fact that the harvest is getting underway in the southwest and lagging flour demand were depressing factors.

AXIS CONVOY BLASTED ON DUTCH COAST BY RAF LONDON, May 29.—(P)—British bombers were reported officially to have fired four ships in an Axis convoy off the Dutch coast in widespread night operations, and relays of RAF planes swept high and low across the strait of Dover to northern France today.

The air ministry announced that German air fields and railway targets in northern France were attacked by bombers last night.

DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN WALL STREET NEW YORK, May 29.—(P)—Search for outstanding news in inspiration was unsuccessful in today's stock market and trends continued to display a moderate amount of irregularity. The list pointed slightly higher on average but fractional plus signs were later erased in many cases and negligible losses were plentiful. Dealings were slow. In view of the fact major markets will recess tomorrow for the Memorial Day holiday, speculative and investment contingents were disposed to proceed warily. War bulletins failed to provide much stimulation either way.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaissance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras, so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your country go over its War Bond Quota.

HIGHWAY BRIDGE IS BLOWN UP EAST OF LONDON

'Enemy' Activity Causes Big Highway Force To Rush to Scene

While the two dozen or more State Highway employees in Fayette County were working on the Greenfield road several miles south of Washington C. H. Thursday afternoon, they received a sudden call from Superintendent Walter Stambaugh to stop all work and hurry at once to a point on State Route 56, some 3 1/2 miles southeast of London, where "enemy" activity made it essential for the highway workmen to aid in civilian defense.

Upon arriving at the scene the workmen, along with the entire force from every county in this district, was converging upon the same spot where "enemy" activities were under way. Soon after reaching the scene there was a terrific blast and a highway bridge across Walnut Creek, was shattered and scattered about the area.

A U. S. Army cadet demolition squad from O. S. U., acting in conjunction with the State Highway Department, had arranged to blow up the bridge which was on a section of the road recently abandoned by a new cut-off built.

Not only were there several hundred State Highway workmen and officials present, but U. S. Army engineers and a large number of civilians had also assembled to watch the "enemy" destroy the bridge.

It was a practical test of mobilizing the State Highway force for civilian defense if needed, and showed how closely the organization has been made, and what would happen if a city or other place in any district in Ohio should be bombed by enemies, or sabotage attempted.

The workmen are under orders to go at once to the point of attack and take part in rescue work, repairs and defense work generally.

FUNERAL SERVICES ARE HELD FOR CHILD

SIDNEY F. FIFER FUNERAL SUNDAY

Well Known Jeffersonville Man Dies Thursday

Sidney F. Fifer, one of the best known residents of Jeffersonville, died at his home there at 2:30 P. M. Thursday, following a long period of ill health.

He suffered a stroke of paralysis early Thursday and failed to rally.

Mr. Fifer had been caretaker of the Milledgeville Bank of Jeffersonville. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias and Junior Lodges and the D. of A.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. C. M. Kloefer, of Columbus and two grandchildren, Miss Edith Corbett, friend of the family, who cared for the Fifer home for a number of years.

The Knights of Pythias will hold ritualistic services at the Morrow Funeral Home, Saturday at 9:00 P. M.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 P. M. at the Morrow Funeral Home, and burial made in the Fairview Cemetery near Jeffersonville.

DEFENSE MOVIES AVAILABLE HERE

Various Organizations To Witness Showing

Three moving pictures, each of a highly interesting and educational nature in connection with civilian defense, are now available through the local Council of Defense, and organizations wishing a showing can arrange for it by contacting Fire Chief George Hall, calling Fireman's Quarters.

One of the films is on First Aid, another is Ready on the Home Front, and the third is on Incendiary Bombs.

These pictures were shown at the fire department Wednesday night, and were viewed by a large number of interested men and women.

They are to be shown in various points in the county where it can be arranged.

YANKS TO INVADE EUROPE, WEST POINT CADETS TOLD BY ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF

sets on this terrible struggle, our flag will be recognized throughout the world as a symbol of freedom on the one hand and of overwhelming power on the other."

The chief of staff said the confusion which existed in the minds of many Americans before Pearl Harbor was a thing of the past, and the American people, "solidly behind the Army, are supporting wholeheartedly every measure for the prosecution of the war, and they are meeting with calm courage the vicissitudes inevitable in a war extending to the four corners of the earth."

"This attitude," Marshall said, "is exemplified in heroic measure by the parents and wives of those men who fought to the last ditch in the Philippines. Their fortitude was magnificent during those agonizing days of tragic uncertainty regarding their sons and husbands. The letters that have come to me from the mothers or wives of men lost in that Homeric struggle are my greatest reassurance that America has steeled itself for a terrible struggle, with the implacable determination to hammer out a complete victory—decisive and final."

The citizen-army which the cadets will join in two weeks as second lieutenants was described by Marshall as "in physique, in natural ability, and in intelligence, the finest personnel in the world."

FOUR INDICTED PERSONS ENTER PLEAS FRIDAY

Forger Admits Guilt and Three Others Plead Innocent

Four persons indicted by the grand jury this week were before Judge H. M. Rankin in Common Pleas Court, Friday morning, three of them pleading innocent and one guilty.

Andy C. Nelson, former county dog warden, pleaded not guilty to a charge of embezzling $843.50 from Fayette County, and his trial was set for June 16.

Nelson is charged with retaining part of the funds received from sale of dogs to the Ohio State University between January 1, 1939 and December 12, 1941.

Virginia Orihood and Roy Allen, facing an indictment charging them with breaking and entering a building in the daytime and stealing two hams of meat from Luther Harper, pleaded innocent and their trials were set for June 9. An attorney will be named to represent them.

James Bryan, indicted for forging a check for $10, pleaded guilty, and Judge Rankin placed him upon probation for a period of two years, during which he must report at stated intervals to the probation officer.

FATHER CRITICALLY INJURED IN FALL

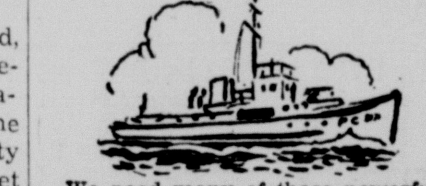

Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Rector and daughter Lavon, of Jeffersonville, were called to Winchester, Indiana, Wednesday, by the critical condition of Mrs. Rector's father, Henry D. Bragg, 64, who is in Winchester Hospital as result of a fall sustained while painting his house. Little hope is held for his recovery.

Rev. Rector and daughter returned Thursday, Mrs. Rector remaining with her father.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Aside from the sixty-mile an hour Mosquito Torpedo Boats, the Sub Chasers are the speedsters of our Navy. Light and fast, they are the eyes of the Fleet on the water. They displace approximately 1,500 tons and cost about $2,400,000 each.

We need many of these powerful, fast little boats to cope with the treacherous submarine type of naval warfare fostered by our enemies. Everybody can help pay for more Sub Chasers by putting at least ten percent of his income into War Bonds. Buy Bonds or Stamps every pay day. Buy them from your bank, your post office, or from your office or factory through the Payroll Savings Plan.
